New York State Employees and Federal Funding

The State workforce is funded through a variety of means, including state taxes, fees and federal funding. The New York State Division of the Budget (DOB) projects 189,700 Full Time Equivalent (FTE) positions as of March 31, 2025. Of these, 4.7 percent (9,009 FTEs) are funded with federal resources; if the public university systems are excluded from the total, the share rises modestly to 7.1 percent.

However, the proportion of FTEs in each agency that are supported with federal dollars ranges widely – from 40 agencies that have no federally-funded FTEs to the Department of Labor, where 83.1 percent of all FTEs are supported by federal funds. In addition, the number of actual State workers whose jobs are backed by federal funding may be somewhat greater. One FTE may be a full-time employee, or a number of part-time employees whose typical work schedule equates to a full State work week. In addition, some FTEs are funded through a mix of State and federal funds.

Federal funding pays for State workers to carry out essential activities, such as administration of major benefits programs like Unemployment Insurance and the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program; provision of services like workforce training and in-home care for older New Yorkers; and prevention of fraud in use of Medicaid in other funds.

Percentage of Select State Agency FTEs That Are Federally Funded, SFY 2025

Note: Federal funding for Department of Labor (DOL) staffing is primarily for the administration of Unemployment Insurance, the Workforce Investment Act, and the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act. Federal funding for Division of Military and Naval Affairs (DMNA) staffing supports military readiness as well as maintenance and operations activities. Federal funds for Office for the Aging (SOFA) staffing primarily supports the administration of the federal Older Americans Act.
